O. W. U. Professor Tells Club of Dangers in Communism

160 Traffic Representatives Attend 25th Anniversary Meeting at Hotel Harding.

About 160 railroad men and industrial shippers from various parts of Ohio attended a twenty-fifth anniversary dinner meeting of the Central Ohio Traffic club last night in Hotel Harding.

Principal speaker was Professor Hosting Eells of Ohio Wesleyan university. Keynote of Mr. Eells' address was that Communist elements throughout the world were expanding and America should be ever alert to the dangers which threaten democracy. Professor Eells declared "the Communists cannot be trusted," and pointed to the 100th anniversary of communism next year as being an important date in the development of communism throughout the world.

Other features of the program included the presentation of past president pins by C. K. Smaltz of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber Co, an annual report read by Thomas M. Dorsey of Mansfield, secretary-treasurer of the club, remarks on the club's silver anniversary by S. D. Rose of the Huber Manufacturing Co and an election report given by G. E. Sobers of the Marion Power Shovel Co.

Ohler Named President

Fred L. Ohler, supervisor of traffic, Westinghouse Electric Corp. of Mansfield was elected president of the club, according to the election report. Mr. Ohler replaces Robert L. Christe of the Illinois Central railroad as president. Mr. Ohler was first vice president during 1945.

New vice president is E. Lee Connell, district representative Detroit Toledo and Ironton railroad, Cleveland and second vice president is Oscar F. Shiller, purchasing agent and traffic manager of the Hughes Keenan Co of Mansfield.

Thomas M. Dorsey, terminal manager of the Norwalk Truck Line Co, Mansfield, was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Board of Governors

Railroad representatives on the board of governors include Paul W. Kemp of the Grand Trunk Canadian National Railroad of Cleveland and J. Stanley Lowe of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad of Newark.

The industrial representatives include Fred C. Bricker, traffic manager for the Ohio Seamless Tube Co of Shelby and Harry Hollingsworth, of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber Co of Mansfield. Harold C. Brezina, general agent, International Forwarding Co, Cleveland, was chosen to represent all other transportation on the board of governors.

Out-of-town guests at the meeting included George A. Lamb, freight traffic manager, Erie Railroad, Youngstown, C. R. Warren, assistant general freight agent, Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, Columbus and H. A. Peterson, freight traffic manager, Northern Pacific railroad, St. Paul, Minn.

Among the Marion guests present were H. H. Clark of the Erie railroad, M. E. Montrose of the Marion Power Shovel Co, Robert M. Mason of radio station WMRN, T. J. Menzer of the Baker Wood Preserving Co, and William S. Tritt of the Universal Cooler Corp. Co.

NO CROONING, NO SWOONING. Among spectators at the United Nations Security Council meeting in New York are Singer Frank Sinatra, left, and Sculptor Jo Davidson. 'The Voice" did no crooning and the bobby-soxers among the 45 spectators present did no swooning for they were warned beforehand. Sinatra, sporting a fancy bow tie, said he came to the UN meeting in behalf of the National Conference for Christians and Jews.

LA RUE CLUB BACKS CANCER CAMPAIGN

Jr. C. of C. Members Address Meeting of Businessmen.

The LaRue Business Men's club, at a meeting last night attended by Junior Chamber of Commerce representatives Duanne Wiseman and William Ogan, endorsed the Junior Chamber's $25,000 cancer drive and voted to promote it in the LaRue area.

Meanwhile, committee chairmen report the campaign is growing in Marion. Mrs. Pauline Irvin, secretary of the Eagles auxiliary, announced today the auxiliary had voted a $10 contribution to the drive.

William Ogan, publicity chairman, said today he had received an announcement that two more radio shows would boost the national campaign in coming broadcasts. The shows include the 'Truth or Consequences' program Saturday at 8:30 p. m. and a Frank Sinatra and Bob Hope show next Friday at 11:30 p. m.

Dr. C. E. Hershey Speaks at Missionary Meeting

Dr. Clem E. Hershey, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist church, was the speaker when the Woman's Missionary Society of Central Christian church met Thursday afternoon at the church. He spoke on "Alaska, Uncle Sam's Attic."

Devotions were led by Mrs. Garnet Cross, assisted by Mrs. George Pickering. A candlelight service for the Easter sacrificial offering was held. Miss Joann Dixon sang "The Legend," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Madge Curl. Plans were completed by the society to fill a box to send to Puerto Rico to the family which the society has adopted.

Action on Strike Of Two in Galion Delayed

Special to The Star

GALION, April 12—Action on the situation at the Galion city water office in which two employes have been suspended since early last week after they went on strike, will be delayed until after Sunday, Mayor Amann announced today. After the two employes, W. G. Sanderlin, accountant, and Miss Florence Berry, bookkeeper, failed to report for work April 3 following what they termed inadequate pay raises by city council, they were notified of discharge by City Service Director K. A. Foster. A period of ten days, which is up Sunday, is allowed for appeal by the two workers to the Ohio Civil Service commission. No move has yet been made to appeal, and if no appeal is received by the commission before the deadline, the two employes will stand suspended. Mayor Amann said he will make no appointments to the positions left vacant until the Sunday deadline is past.

LAST SERVICES HELD FOR EX-GOV. DONAHEY

By The Associated Press

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., April 12—Former Gov. Vic Donahey lay today in his final resting place among the scenes of his boyhood.

Funeral services for the erstwhile printer's devil who became governor three times and served a term as U. S. senator were held yesterday in the modest surroundings he loved best.

Symbolic of his preference for simplicity was the plain casket, borne by his six sons to the East Avenue cemetery grave. A huge glacial boulder placed there himself bore an inscription characteristic of his unostentatious nature: "Donahey."

Flags were at half-mast throughout the city as more than 1,200 relatives and friends from over the state crowded the First Methodist Episcopal church to hear the services. There was no music.

The rites were conducted by ministers of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian Science faiths and Rev. G. A. Parsens, pastor of the church, rendered his own eulogy for the Democrat, who had declined honorary college degrees "because he said he had not earned them."

Gov. Frank J. Lausche and State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson were among those attending the rites. Former Adj. Gen. Frank D. Henderson and Brig. Gen. L. S. Connelly draped the state flag over the casket before it was lowered into the grave.

Mrs. Mary Donahey, the widow, was accompanied to the grave by U. S. Senator James W. Huffman, the deceased's son-in-law. Mrs. Huffman was ill and unable to attend. Present also were Hal Donahey, Cleveland Plain Dealer cartoonist, and William Donahey, Chicago author and artist, brothers of the former governor, who died Monday of a rare blood disease.

DOCTOR RULED SANE IN HARDIN CO. CASE

Mt. Victory Man Returned on Arson Charge.

Special to The Star

KENTON, April 12—Dr. Gail Robson of Mt. Victory, who pleaded guilty to an arson charge several weeks ago, was returned to Kenton by Hardin County Sheriff Randall Clark yesterday.

At the request of Robson's attorneys, he was committed to the Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane for a 60-day period for observation and examination.

Officials of that institution in a letter to common pleas court declared he was sane.

A further hearing will be held here within 30 days. If the court here finds Robson sane he will be sentenced.

Robson was charged with setting fire to a barn on his estranged wife's farm last fall. The barn burned to the ground with several thousands of dollars loss.

Y.M.C.A. Secretaries Hold Meeting Here

Y.M.C.A. secretaries from 11 Ohio towns met Friday at the local Y.M.C.A. in a monthly district meeting.

Women's and girl's work in the Y.M.C.A. was the principal topic of discussion, led by Paul Routsong, general secretary of the Toledo "Y." A report on the international convention and national council meeting held last month at Atlantic City was given by A. G. McQuate of Tiffin. The president of the group, James M. Williams of Fostoria, led the meeting. Rev. H. M. McAdow of Wesley Methodist church delivered the invocation.

Franklin D. Roosevelt Dead One Year Today; Nation Honors Memory

Nation Mourned Tragic Death of Roosevelt Year Ago Today

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, April 12—Shortly after 2 p. m. a year ago today, Franklin D. Roosevelt raised a hand to the back of his head and grimaced:

"I have a terrific headache."

These were the last words spoken by the fourth term president. He died two and a half hours later in a simply-furnished bedroom of his mountain cottage at Warm Springs, Ga.

As one of three reporters in Warm Springs when death suddenly overtook the 31st President, I was stunned by its unexpectedness, like almost everyone else.

We were aware that Mr. Roosevelt was not a well man—that he was given to much sleeping, that he was not gaining weight as his doctors wanted him to do while resting in his "second home" in the south.

A Terrible Shock

But when we were summoned from a barbecue, to which the President had been invited but never attended, and heard the tragic news from the lips of Secretary William D. Hassett, it was one of the greatest shocks of our lives. The doctors said they were shocked, too.

Death came at 4:35 p. m. Washington time. We were called from our picnic shortly before 6.

"It is my sad duty," Hassett said in the presence of tearful associates, "to announce the President died at 3:35 p. m. (Central Time) of a cerebral hemorrhage." Dr. Howard Bruen, naval commander in attendance at the time, later changed this to "massive cerebral hemorrhage."

We rushed to telephones in the Hassett cottage and put in calls to our Washington offices. Before they could be put through, the White House had flashed a brief announcement of the death to news offices.

We filled in the details as the constitutional succession routine was carried out, the bereaved family was notified, and the world—still at war but sensing the end for which the war President had fought so untiringly—paid homage to a national and world leader.

An Ordeal for Widow

Mrs. Roosevelt, standing the ordeal like a soldier, flew to Warm Springs after her husband's successor, Harry S. Truman, had taken the oath. She made the trip back to Washington with the body—past sorrowing multitudes gathered along the 750 miles of track to the nation's capital—and on to the family home at Hyde Park.

There, in the rose garden of the Roosevelt home, the 63 year old leader was buried on a bright Sunday morning—April 15—as the Rev. George W. Anthony, rector of St. James Episcopal church, where the family worshiped, recited John Ellerton's poem: "Now the laborer's task is o'er; now the battle-day is past."

ACME'S Weekly Recipe
Baked Beans with Red Wine
6 or 8 slices of bacon ½ cup Claret or Burgundy Wine
1 onion, sliced 1 large can of baked beans
Fry bacon until partly done, not crisp. Take up bacon and pour off all but about 2 tbsps. of the fat. Add sliced onion and fry gently 5 minutes in the hot fat. Then add wine and beans; mix thoroughly. Pour into a shallow casserole and bake in fairly hot oven (400° F.) about 20 minutes, until bubbly. Top with the partly cooked bacon slices and put back in oven until bacon is crisp. Serves 4.

SKIRMISH HEIGHTENS MANCHURIAN CRISIS

By The Associated Press

KAIYUAN, MANCHURIA, April 12—China's political rift widened perceptibly today in this communist surrounded, machine-gun-protected city as Gen. Liang Hwa-Sheng told correspondents he would "sweep away" all communists in a drive to northern Manchuria.

The arrival Tuesday of a cease fire team of American, communist and government members served only to worsen the situation. Liang told a press conference he had received no instructions regarding the cease fire team and declined to discuss its mission. He is deputy commander of government forces in northeast China.

Expressing fear for the safety of communist cease fire team members, government military authorities ordered them confined to their quarters.

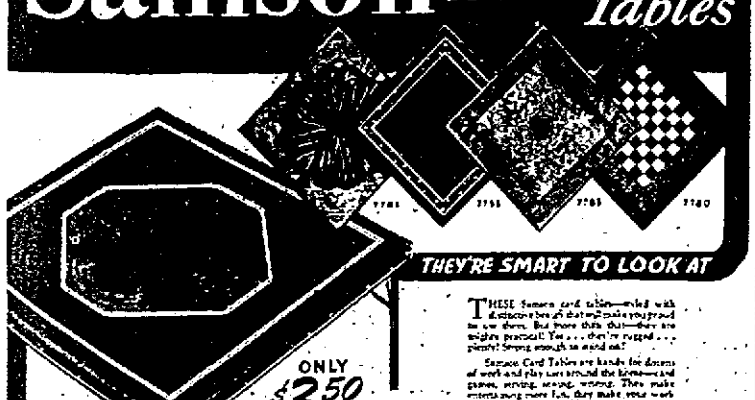

A midnight attempt by a band of 120 communists to enter Kaiyuan—which has sandbag machinegun posts and barbed wire tanglements—enlivened the situation. Fifteen minutes of machinegun and mortar fire followed. Government officials reported the communists had been repelled without loss of life.

They further vexed government officials by blowing up railroad bridges six miles south of Kaiyuan, isolating the city more than 12 hours until the spans could be repaired.

Congress Acts on Atomic Law

Drives To Get Rules Fixed by First Anniversary of Hiroshima Bombing.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 12 — Congress drove today to lay down a law for the domestic control of atomic energy by the first anniversary of its use as a military weapon—August 6.

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) of the special senate committee which unanimously approved a final draft of control legislation yesterday told reporters he "most certainly would expect" it to be in the statute books by the anniversary of the bombing of Hiroshima.

As drawn by McMahon's committee, the projected control commission would have broader powers than any ever held by a government agency in peacetime.

The five-member commission, appointed by the President subject to senate approval, would have complete control over the production, ownership and use of fissionable materials from which atomic energy is derived, and would be responsible for programs of information, production, research and development.

Three consultative committees would be provided to work with the commission.

One would be a military liaison committee which could appeal to the President through the war and navy secretaries any action or lack of action on the part of the commission.

A second advisory group would be composed of nine scientific and technical experts, and the third would be a joint congressional committee of nine senators and nine house members.

The measure would set up stringent controls to make sure that no one gets materials or facilities for making an atom bomb. The commission could distribute fissionable material for use in research, medicine and the like only in amounts insufficient to produce an atomic weapon.

OHIO WHEAT TO DROP

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 12 — The state's record high of 60,993,000 bushels of winter wheat harvested in 1945 probably will yield to 44,220,000 bushels this year, the federal state crop reporting service predicted. The 1946 yield per seeded acre, however, should be 22 bushels as compared with 20 bushels for the 10-year average (1935-44), the service said.

HOT FOOTS IT AS VOLCANO LAVA FLOWS NEAR. Far too close for comfort, Lt. Comdr. Alex Pendleton, Mill Valley, Cal., leaps from the path of danger as a river of lava rips loose red-hot boulders following the eruption of Sakurajima volcano in Kagoshima Bay, Japan. Dormant since 1914, Sakurajima recently became active again, and so great was the flow of lava that it completely filled a gap between the mainland and the island on which it is located.

Truman's First Twelve Months Jam-packed with Major News

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 12—President Truman steps tonight from 12 months crammed with mammoth events into the uncertain future of a second year in the White House.

High spots of his first year:

April 12, 1945—Took the presidential oath.

May 2—Made first change in the Roosevelt cabinet. Frank Walker resigned as postmaster general; Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan picked as the successor.

May 8—Proclaimed V-E day.

June 26—Closed at San Francisco the conference which drafted the United Nations charter.

July 7—Sailed for Potsdam conference with Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill, and Churchill's successor, Clement Attlee.

July 26—Joined in Allied demand upon Japan to surrender unconditionally.

First A-Bomb Revealed

Aug. 6—Announced that the first atomic bomb had been dropped on Japan.

Aug. 7—Returned from Potsdam.

Aug. 8—Signed the senate-ratified United Nations charter; announced that Russia had declared war on Japan.

Aug. 14—Announced Japan's surrender; began stripping away wartime controls.

Aug. 21—Ended $42,000,000,000 lendlease program.

Aug. 27—Asked continuation of the draft.

Sept. 6—In first message to congress, laid down a 21-point legislative program for continuing some wartime controls and economic steps he said would lead to the greatest era of prosperity in history.

Sept. 18—Named Senator Harold H. Burton, Ohio Republican, to the supreme court.

Oct. 3—Proposed in message to congress creation of a commission to control the development and use of atomic energy in this country.

Oct. 23—In personal address to congress, urged peacetime military training for American youths.

Oct. 27—Set forth the 12-point basic foreign policy of his administration in a Navy day address in New York.

Oct. 30—Established a postwar wage-price policy permitting some increases.

Wage Parley Opens

Nov. 5—Opened a national labor-management conference called to try to find the way to industrial peace.

Nov. 9—Signed a $6,000,000,000 tax reduction bill.

Nov. 20—Picked Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to be Army chief of staff, succeeding Gen. George C. Marshall, and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz to replace Adm. Ernest J. King as chief of naval operations.

Nov. 25—Flew to Missouri for two-hour surprise visit with his mother on her 93rd birthday.

Nov. 27—Accepted the resignation of Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley as ambassador to China, designated General Marshall as special envoy.

Dec. 3—Asked congress for fact-finding legislation to cope with strikes.

Dec. 19—Recommended to congress a single department of defense.

Dec. 25—Flew to Missouri in rain and sleet for Christmas with home folks.

Jan. 3—Appealed directly to the people by radio to turn the heat on congress to pass his bogged-down legislative program.

Jan. 17—Offered his own formula, based on an 18½ cents an hour wage boost, in an unsuccessful effort to avert the steel strike.

Jan. 21—Sent to congress the longest presidential message in history—30,000 words combining the budget and his report on the state of union and forecasting the first cut in the national debt since 1930.

Jan. 30—Sought congressional approval of a $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain.

Orders "Truman Loaf"

Feb. 6—Decreed darker bread for Americans, less beer and whiskey, to save wheat for starving abroad.

Feb. 8—Released "bold" program to build 2,700,000 homes in two years.

Feb. 13—Accepted resignation of Harold L. Ickes, who resigned as interior secretary and accused the President of challenging his veracity before a senate committee.

Feb. 14—Announced new wage-price formula permitting a "bulge" in the price line and leading to settlement of the steel strike.

March 5—Introduced Winston Churchill as speaker at Westminster college, Fulton, Mo.

March 23—In first full-fledged political speech, to a Jackson day dinner, called for more unity and responsibility in the Democratic party.

April 6—In Chicago Army Day speech, called for a strong America to reinforce a "universal" foreign policy intended to "safeguard peace."

Ex-GI Set for Tour by Jeep and Tent To Win Nomination

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 12—With two jeeps, two pup tents and a stock of food provisions, George L. Mark, the former GI who lambasted Army "brass hats" before two congressional committees, will start a state tour Tuesday in his campaign tour for congressman-at-large.

A 37-year-old former barber supply salesman, Mark said today that "I simply don't have the money to sleep and eat in hotels."

Four or five other ex-soldiers who serve as his political aides will accompany him on the tour, expected to cover 40 points and last until about May 4.

"We are going to do virtually all of our own cooking and sleep in the tents every night," Mark, who was discharged from the Army Dec. 17, declared.

Mark said he intended to talk "direct to the people" and make a speech "anytime I get a group together." So far, he added, response to his campaign has been "very, very good."

He received considerable publicity in December when he appeared before the house and senate military affairs committees and urged elimination of the Army caste system and compulsory military training.

In addition to these, he is advocating in his Democratic campaign that atomic power be controlled by the United Nations and that the UNRRA receive more funds.

Other planks include turning the Palestine trusteeship over to the UN and a full employment bill that would guarantee jobs for all employables.

The father of three children, Mark said he is not out for personal gain, because he was in the Army only nine and a half months, but to "help the thousands of veterans who spent many gruelling months under gunfire and Army discipline."

A salamander can increase its weight by nearly 40 per cent within a few hours by absorbing water through its skin.

SPEEDING CASES IN COURT

Glenn Campbell, 31, of Marion, rode a $15 and costs when he pleaded guilty in municipal court Friday to a charge of speeding. He was arrested on Davids street Wednesday at 8 a. m., and was released on $25 bond prior to hearing. John Collins, 23, of Richwood forfeited a $25 bond when he failed to appear in municipal court Friday on a charge of driving without an operator's license. He was arrested on South State street Friday at 12:05 a. m.

Nylon Lines Here To Stay; Expert Says Shortage Till 1947

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 12—Hark to the sad tidings, ladies—the man says nylons for everyone are a year and a half away.

This mournful news, which would cause women's pages from coast to coast to be bordered in black, comes from Warren A. Beh, the man who peddles the yarn for every pair of nylons made in the U. S.

Beh heads nylon sales for the DuPont Co., the only company which knows the magic nylon secret.

Beh told a senate special committee on small business yesterday that DuPont now turns more than 90 per cent of its nylon yarn over to hosiery manufacturers. This is enough to make 30,000,000 pairs of nylons each month.

He said DuPont was trying to build a new plant, but was hampered by shortages.

"If all goes well," we'll start production in February," he said. "Then we should be in full swing by mid-summer. I would say the supply won't be plentiful until the latter part of next year."

PRE-SCHOOL CLINIC HELD AT CLARIDON

17 Examined by County Health Department.

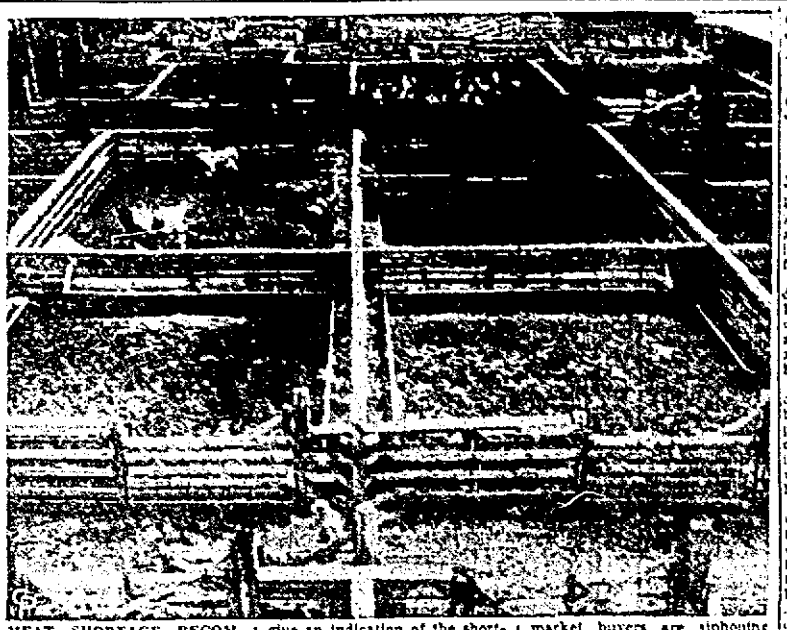

The Marion county health department completed its fourth pre-school clinic Thursday with the examination of 17 pre-school children at the Claridon school.

Assisting county health authorities with the examination was Dr. M. F. Axtheim of Caledonia. Forty students of the school were given diphtheria immunizations during the afternoon.

Next pre-school clinic will be held at New Bloomington next Tuesday. Mrs. Gladys Anderson and Mrs. Anna Sedelmaier, county health nurses, will assist Health Commissioner N. Sifritt with the examinations.

Physical condition of children examined so far has been very good, Dr. Sifritt reports. From the clinics at Morral, Grand Prairie, Pleasant and Claridon no serious physical defects have been found. Minor ailments have been referred to local physicians.

A new Coast Guard lightship is under construction and will be assigned to duty at the Diamond Shoal lightship station, off the coast of North Carolina.

MEAT SHORTAGE BECOMING ACUTE. Virtually empty pens in the Chicago stockyards give an indication of the shortage of meat, which is becoming acute. Packers claim that black market buyers are siphoning most of the cattle off the Chicago market to send to eastern markets.

Six-Year-Old Boy To Have Rare Heart Surgery Performed

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 12—Young Johnny Lynch, who is six, has the promise of a toy panda bear to keep him company in the hospital, and that's almost as good as having a horse to ride, a reward fondly to be hoped for.

He arrived at babies' and children's hospital, in the University Hospitals group, late yesterday with his mother and father, Capt. and Mrs. John F. Lynch Sr., after a three-day automobile trip from Fort Sill, Okla.

Johnny needs an unusual heart operation. He is similar to a "blue baby," because his circulation is poor and he gets out of breath easily. Any exertion, such as riding a horse—which is his idea of what life was made for—makes him sick in a very few minutes.

The condition was discovered while his father, an infantry captain who was wounded in France, was overseas. Captain Lynch returned recently and arranged for the operation with Dr. Claude S. Beck, a noted heart specialist. After several days of tests here, a date will be set for the surgery.

NAB NO. 1 FUGITIVE, DUE FOR EXECUTION

By The Associated Press

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 12—The nation's most hunted criminal—rape-killer Earl McFarland—was back behind bars today, awaiting removal to Washington and eventual death in the electric chair.

The 24-year-old ex-Marine was captured here yesterday on a street corner a block from city jail by two FBI agents.

FBI Agent Norman H. McCabe said McFarland, who escaped from the District of Columbia jail April 3 in company with another condemned killer, Joseph D. Medley, was being held in Knox county jail under $100,000 bond pending a removal hearing tomorrow.

McFarland was awaiting execution for the rape-slaying of an 18-year-old government girl in Washington in 1944 when he and Medley made their daring break from the jail. Medley was captured inside the district the same day.

The tow-headed youth said he had spent the last five nights of his short freedom living in the open "just like we used to do on Guadalcanal when I was with the First Marine division."

He had returned to his native Tennessee seeking help from friends and relatives, he continued. He was shabbily-dressed in blue shirt, blue denim overalls, white sweat shirt and brown hat when captured, and had only one cent in his pockets, McCabe said.

Contribution Voted to Cancer Campaign

A contribution of $5 was made to the cancer prevention campaign being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting of the Expville Ladies' Aid society, at the home of Mrs. Martha Johnson in Meeker, Wednesday. A potluck dinner was served at noon. Mrs. Helen Schlect presided for the business session. Mrs. Marie Drake received an award in a guessing box contest. Guests were Mrs. Esther Longshore, Mrs. Wilda Weaver and Mrs. Marion Hecker of Meeker.

Boyle Discovers Brisk Market in St. Bernards

By HAL BOYLE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NAPLES, April 12 — Luigi is probably the world's only peddler of black market Saint Bernard dogs named Saint Bernard.

Luigi is a pint-sized Naples moppet with tousled black hair and a face where age-old Neopolitan cunning outshines any faint tinge of boyish honesty that might ever had been there.

Hal Boyle

He wears patches on his pants and the patches are patched, too. His Oversized, flapping shoes have been ventilated by corrosion and are tied together by ropes.

I was waiting for a bus outside the Naples postoffice when Luigi caught me.

I had turned down three street urchin junior salesmen in the previous five minutes. One wanted to sell a $10 wrist watch for $50. Another was peddling genuine cutglass diamond rings. The third tried to interest me in some vague educational project that included his sister.

Then Luigi came up and plumped a fat, squirming puppy into my hands.

"How mucha you pay, Joe?"

"I don't want any dog now."

"Hissa a gooda dog," said Luigi, "cost in de black market."

"Where did you get him?"

"Whatsa dif, Joe. You gimme 20 dollars I needs buy some new shoes."

"What kind dog is he?"

"He'ssa San Bernard dog. You gimme 15 dollars."

"What's his name, Luigi?"

"Hisa name? Hisa name is San Bernard. All San Bernard dogs name San Bernard. Thisa fine dog. You getta stuck in da snow, he come pulla you out and give you drinka whisky. He's a good dog. How much you pay, Joe?"

"Look, Luigi, take this dog and mail him home to the Alps or something. I don't want him."

"Everybody wantsa dog, Joe. He'sa gooda dog. He likesa you already. He wagsa da tail. He don'ta each much. He don'ta sleep much. He stay up all night to watch you and bitea da bad people for you. You needs San Bernard dog, Joe."

The puppy began to feel a little heavier. I think he had grown some during the argument and I had visions of standing there holding him until he became as big as a Shetland pony.

Luigi saw I was wilting and began to put on the pressure.

"How mucha you pay, Joe? Its a late now and I gotta go home You give me ten dollars."

Just then a young soldier stepped up and patted the puppy. Frantically, I stuffed him into the soldier's hands and Luigi swung immediately to his fresh target.

"Hesa San Bernard dog, Joe. How mucha you pay?"

I escaped at a fast dogtrot.

Hold on to that "Million-Dollar Rain"

That welcome rain that brings new life to your land, crops and livestock is the traditional "million-dollar rain" known to every farmer and rancher.

There is an old saying, "You can't do much about the weather." But you can do a great deal about what the weather does to your land. Rain can bring relief after drouth and is worth that million dollars—or it can be a savage enemy that "dashes off with grit in its teeth and tears down our soil like a billion furious buzz saws."

Water that "walks downhill" is your ally in increasing the production of your land. And one secret of handling rainfall properly is "farming on the level"—by strip cropping, contour plowing, terracing. Cover crops, grassed waterways, dams and farm ponds also help control the destructive power of rain. Then you hold the rain where it falls. Surface run-off is slowed down to the point where it doesn't erode your topsoil away. And as your water "walks downhill," it soaks into the soil, makes plant food nutrients available to the roots of crops and, penetrating further, fills up nature's great underground reservoirs.

Water thus stored in the subsoil is the source of the wells and springs which supply homes and farms and ranches. For years this "water table" has been dropping very seriously in some sections. But where soil conservation has been practiced over large areas, the lowering of the "water table" has been a less serious problem. Soil and water can never be divorced in any good land management program. These two great resources are wedded for all time, and from their union comes the wealth of America's agriculture and the prosperity of the nation.

WORTH THINKING ABOUT

In view of the recent talk about the business, profits, etc., of the meat packers, it's worth remembering the basic economics of all businesses in this country.

To be successful, any business must do four things—1) it must purchase its raw materials at prices comparable to the prices paid by its competitors; 2) through know-how, efficiency, good operating, it must manufacture products of comparable quality at a manufacturing cost no higher than that of its competitors; 3) in doing this, it must pay its workers wage rates comparable to the going wage-scale paid by others; 4) and it must sell its product at prices that a large part of the public is willing and able to pay.

In the livestock-and-meat industry, this simply means that prices must be high enough to earn both cost and a decent profit for the livestock producer, the meat packer and the retail merchant—and low enough to keep the great masses of people eating meat.

Soda Bill Sez:

. . . that the dairy business is mighty colorful—red cows eat green grass and brown hay to give white milk and yellow butter. . . . that the more a feller works, the more work he finds to do.

OBJECTIONABLE ODORS AND FLAVORS IN MILK can be prevented by removing the cause. Feed is the cause of most of the trouble. The most pronounced flavors and odors are produced by garlic, onions, turnips, cabbage, rape, kale, and certain weeds such as bittersweed and stinkweed. Sudden changes to such feeds as green alfalfa, green sweet clover or silage may produce temporary flavors in the milk. Odors may also be absorbed from the barn by carelessly handled milk.

SUPPLEMENTARY PASTURES AND FULL FEEDING

F. A. Trowbridge

by Dean F. A. Trowbridge, University of Missouri

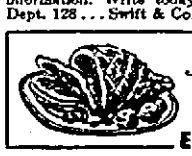

Experience and research prove that pastures grown on fertile soil, producing grass of sufficient quality and quantity, will provide all essential food requirements of cattle. In grazing, gains up to 60% of the grazing season's total gains are usually made before July first. During the hot, dry days of July and August, gains are frequently low or lacking, and indeed an actual loss of weight often occurs; but with fall, gains again resume.

These facts show the importance of providing supplementary pasture for the summer. In Missouri, Lespedeza is an efficient summer crop, and when used as supplementary pasture it allows other native pasture grasses to build up and provide good growths for fall and winter.

When cattle are pasture-fed until two to two and one-half years old, on good pasture, plus good winter roughage, they should gain on an average of a pound a day. With a sixty-day period of full feeding (requiring twenty bushels of corn), most well-bred cattle will finish out and grade "Good" at a weight of 1050 to 1200 pounds. Yearling cattle, after a full season of grazing good pastures, need from 100 to 180 days on full feed (twenty to twenty-five bushels of corn and a hundred pounds of supplement), and should then grade "Good" at a weight of 850 to 950 pounds.

Martha Logan's Recipe for Easter Ham

The mellow flavor of ham rates it one of the most popular of meats. Glaze your ham with honey, marmalade or maple syrup to save sugar. Place the ham, fat side up, on rack in uncovered pan. No water needed, as the fat will baste the ham naturally. Bake in a moderately slow oven until tender. Three to four hours will be enough. Garnish the platter with pickled peaches or apricots, or hot spiced orange slices.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW!

What is the meaning of the expression "farming on the level"?

With what groups of people must a meat packing company like Swift & Company co-operate to operate successfully?

Who must earn a fair profit for the livestock-and-meat industry to operate?

Why is it important to make water "walk downhill"?

Answers to these questions may be found in the various articles which are printed elsewhere on this page.

OUR CITY COUSIN

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

F. M. Simpson

In addition to being a business corporation, Swift & Company is people—62,000 folks like you and me who have pooled their savings to build a business. These savings are invested in plants and equipment, in livestock and other raw materials, and in all the many things that make up Swift & Company.

Without people there could be no business, no Swift & Company. There must be people (shareholders) to supply the capital; others (farmers and ranchers) to supply the raw materials; many thousands (employes) who work with their heads and hands for the company; and the millions of consumers who buy the meat and other products.

The success of a business enterprise depends on how these various groups of people get along together. In other words, there must be goodwill and cooperation between the owners of Swift & Company and livestock producers, employes, and the company's customers.

To maintain goodwill we know that Swift & Company must: 1) pay fair prices for raw materials, including livestock; 2) pay a good day's pay for a good day's work; 3) provide the money to keep plants and facilities efficient; 4) pay Federal, State and Municipal taxes; 5) earn a profit to give our owners a fair return on their invested savings.

The management of Swift & Company recognizes this five-fold responsibility to the various groups of people who make our business. It is to their interest that we manage our business efficiently, that we earn a sufficient profit to let us continue contributing to the well-being of more and more people.

The Question Is "Iffy"

THE YEAR since Franklin D. Roosevelt's death has been one of those intervals in history when ordinary measurements of time were suspended. It has seemed much longer or much shorter, depending on the individual outlook. Only to a very few has it been just another year.

Many of us are still wondering what might have happened had Mr. Roosevelt lived. As he would have said, it is an "iffy" question. Still, an attempt to find a reasonable answer is worth making because it inevitably must disclose one overlooked fact about the presidency of the United States.

The chief executive is not all-powerful, but the victim of many things beyond his control. Had Mr. Roosevelt lived, he would have been subject to most of the circumstances which have exerted great influence over Mr. Truman. For one thing, Mr. Roosevelt no longer would have been regarded by his own party as a candidate for reelection, and in that respect his influence as a potent vote-getter would have been no greater than Mr. Truman's.

The New Deal, which was warmed up in 1940 and wasn't even mentioned in 1944, would have been as ineffectual in Mr. Roosevelt's mouth as a postwar talking point as it has been in Mr. Truman's. There would have been the same schism between conservatives and the P. A. C. wing of the Democratic party, and it is likely there would have been the same epidemic of strikes and paralyzed production. All these things were in the works long before Mr. Truman became president. It may have been his awareness of them that caused him to show so much humility at the outset of his responsibility. Whoever was president was destined for a bad time, and the bad time fell to his lot. Today he is bearing the brunt not only of his own mistakes, which have been relatively few, but that of his predecessor's mistakes and of the inevitable reaction following a world war. His personal discomfiture is really the discomfiture of his party, which would have been in the same condition had Mr. Roosevelt lived.

One Way Out

THE schoolteacher's wage dilemma, like the problem of the poor, is one of those things that seem always to have been with us. Cures are proposed, but never effected.

The schoolteacher's wage dilemma has its source in the infinite flexibility of his employer's policy. When times are bad, teachers will work for what they can get. When times are good, school boards will take what they can get. In neither case is there any necessity to go into the wage market to compete with the going rates for similarly responsible work. Teaching school is not an integral part of production, and in a land where production is a fetish over-manned nonproductive occupations take what they can get.

Schoolteachers as a group have only one way out of their low-wage dilemma, which is to prove that they are not necessarily bound to their profession. They have been reluctant to take it. They were proud of being teachers, and their pride held them to their jobs. But in Ohio, the supervisor of teacher certification has just reported that next year there will be a shortage of at least 2,000 teachers because 10,000 teachers left classrooms during the war for various reasons. If the teachers will be patient, they may yet command wages proportionate to those earned by their brighter pupils within a few years after being pushed out of the educational nest.

Stitch in Time

THE BITTERNESS of the wrangling about organization of national defense makes taxpayers feel very sad. It can mean only one thing: that no matter what plan may be put into effect internal friction will make national defense more expensive than it needs to be.

As for efficiency, that must wait on another war for proof; there is no magic in tables of organizations. Any system can be made to work if the human element is willing and ingenious. In the war we have just won, a bad system was surmounted by good manpower.

It is a curious fact—for taxpayers—that their professional fighting men do not defend the organization now in existence, yet there is such vigorous objection to proposals for improving it. Surely if anybody should be interested in taking a stitch in time, it should be the professional fighting men themselves. Their whole existence and the success of their careers turn on their ability to command public confidence in their ability. Before they fight too hard to block change they should ask themselves whether they prefer to meet their next test, if any, without benefit of change.

Predicted Labor Revolution May Come To Pass.

The facts [illegible] in the reports are more apparent than real. Reuther [illegible] [illegible] of the UAW [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Thomas [illegible] Thomas [illegible] Reuther by a [illegible] [illegible] majority [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] presence of the Communists.

Actions Beat Thomas

The [illegible] pressure for Thomas [illegible] Reuther's election. Most UAW [illegible] [illegible] Thomas, at least a [illegible] majority [illegible] Communists [illegible] in behalf of Thomas. The Communist made it easier for Reuther to get the presidency, because the majority of the union has a particular distaste for [illegible] Communist movement—when, in specific cases, [illegible] [illegible] what they are doing, although [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] domestic and international affairs the majority is frequently misled by its Communist minority.

But Lewis, since his return to the AFL executive committee, has not been doing anything about [illegible] [illegible] matters. Indeed, he has made no move against Green, or to assert his bulk, or any move whatsoever. Lewis is not a Socialist. Dubinsky, like Reuther, is, although this fact is little known. (Most labor people count Dubinsky as a Republican in view of his strong political resistance to CIO and the Communists.) Lewis is a free enterprise man, who believes the greater the profits, the greater the wage. The best labor authorities doubt that he will try to find his mature way [illegible] the Reuther-Dubinsky [illegible]. Indeed, if the Thomas faction of UAW could purge itself of the Communists, it might expect to do more business with Lewis than the Reuther-Dubinsky [illegible] [illegible] Lewis does start toward AFL when his time comes [illegible] and other [illegible] to occupy his time are lacking.

CIO Split Likely

The inner [illegible] of union politics is now, therefore, that a split in CIO is likely and half of it or more may eventually go to AFL, but certainly not the Communist part, and possibly not the Socialist wingers.

Also not the Hillman part. Here the split runs wider and deeper. Sidney Hillman is a Socialist, but of somewhat the French kind which is currently playing ball with the Communists on political issues facing the nation and world. CIO President Philip Murray is actually being faced with an inner revolt by these leftists groups. Lately Hillman has been very quiet, running his political action groups and letting Murray handle the strike and wage-increase campaign, which, incidentally, have done little to increase his prestige. Murray is a former protege of Lewis, who brought him up, and a Catholic. Ordinarily neither of these classes like Communists—or totalitarian Socialists of the Russian, Nazi, Fascist or other grades.

You can see plainly then that the politics of the unions is loading itself up with dynamite—or explosive atomic energy—but no one can yet guess in which direction it will explode, or when.

Unquestionably the Communists and friends are trying to get Murray as well as Reuther, and the mixed politics within CIO must inevitably become more mixed and bitter. Whatever comes out of the fray, Lewis is in a good position to handle it. His health is better now than in recent years. He looks vigorous enough to step to the fore of the labor picture in an effort to establish a sensible, non-destructive, nonsabotaging, democratic labor organization—but he has not yet started.

A Good Week To Be Treated Like a Dog

This is National be Kind to Animals week.

And timely, too, what with Easter coming up and many kiddies having the idea rabbit ears are handles by which to lug them around.

But what this country really needs is an annual Be Kind to People Week.

For many a gent who lavishes affection on dogs and shares his canning sugar with strange dray horses has never a pleasant word for his wife and progeny.

Wouldn't it be a fine idea, then, to set aside one week out of the year when everyone, even waitresses and bus drivers, would treat human beings as though they were?

You'd have to give everybody ample notice, of course, otherwise there would be considerable heart failure and fainting in the streets when lady drivers smiled pleasantly and slowed their vehicles to let pedestrians pass.

In this connection, Representative Short of Missouri suggests a national "Be Kind to Your Congressmen Week." Or is that carrying things too far?

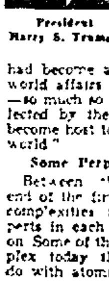

—— Truman's First Year ——

Political Debits and Credits

By JACK STINNETT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, April 12—When President Truman took office in April, 1945, he inherited a rather nebulous blueprint of the Roosevelt post-war foreign policy that started with the idealistic Four Freedoms and extended through secret agreements made at the various Big Three meetings, ending with that at Yalta.

At the end of President Truman's first year in office, the United Nations was a going, if slightly embattled, concern, and the United States, with the almost unanimous approval of the senate, was a member of it. The Bretton Woods world financial agreements had been approved. The wheels had been set in motion to stave off starvation in a score of countries in Europe and Asia.

President Harry S. Truman

The United States, which isolated itself after World War I, had become a full participant in world affairs after World War II—so much so that it had been selected by the United Nations to become host to "the capital of the world."

Some Perplexing Problems

Between the beginning and end of the first Truman year are complexities that even the experts in each theater can't agree on. Some of them seem more complex today than ever—what to do with atomic fission as an instrument of destruction—the attitude of Russia—China's political and economic problems—the Yugoslavian situation—how Argentina is going to fit into the world picture, to mention only a few.

The world muddle is a muddle and no mistake, but strides have been taken which could lead us out of chaos sooner than we think. There will always be trouble, some of it serious. There is in your neighborhood and mine. The neighborhood of nations isn't much different. The point is that the world board of directors, with power to act, has now been set up to do something about it, and Uncle Sam is sitting right up there near the head of the table.

The idea wasn't President Truman's. As a senator, he wasn't even on the foreign relations committee. As vice president, he could only listen to debate and read the newspapers. By his own admission, he didn't even know we had an atomic bomb when he was sworn in by Chief Justice Harlan Stone in the gloomy twilight a year ago.

Novices in Diplomacy

When he came into office, President Truman had no experience as a diplomat. Except for attending the Yalta conference with President Roosevelt, neither had his Secretary James F. Byrnes. Even the less charitable must admit they are learning fast. Certainly some of their for-

It was Sunday, April 12, 1936. Hundreds of Marionites attended church services and joined the Easter parade in spring weather—sunshine with here and there a bit of a rain cloud. Eleven couples signified their intentions of joining the Easter parade to the altar by taking out marriage licenses on the preceding Friday and Saturday. Easter day weddings included those of Miss Jenella Fields and Russell Gillison, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Fields of near Claridon and Miss Frances Imbody of south of Agosta and Herschel E. Hecker of Prospect, which took place in the Agosta M. E. church.

Japanese-Americans Mixing in Melting Pot

By LARRY J. HALL
Associated Press Writer

SALT LAKE CITY—What began as the most heart-breaking mass migration of American citizens in modern times is becoming a hope for equality of opportunity for 110,000 persons of Japanese ancestry.

Relocation, the government policy of urging Japanese-Americans who were herded from their Pacific coast homes during the war into 10 huge centers, to disperse and settle in the east and midwest, is working.

Far from the west coast, where the concentration of large numbers of these persons led to their frequently being looked on as competitors with Caucasian merchants, farmers and professionals, thousands of America's "displayed persons" are now finding outlets for their talents in other parts of the land.

Staging a Comeback

In Salt Lake City Saburo Kido, wartime president of the Japanese-American Citizens' League, believes the price of the evacuation has been high in emotional upheaval, but that long range constructive results are becoming apparent.

In Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Cleveland and Detroit, relocated Japanese-Americans have found new homes, new freedom to utilize their fullest capabilities and, above all—a lack of racial prejudice that came as something of a surprise.

In 1943, 110,000 persons of Japanese ancestry were forced to leave California, the western halves of Oregon and Washington and the southern half of Arizona.

At ten huge relocation centers throughout the west they began a new existence, dejected by the sudden uprooting which in many cases necessitated sales of property at abnormally low prices.

Migration was slow at first. The shock of transfer, to a confined, and necessarily closely regulated camp life left a great fear to be overcome.

Young Went First

The young typically, went first to manpower short areas. As Caucasians—it's a term they use frequently—quit nonessential jobs for higher paying war work, the Japanese-Americans filled the gaps.

The War Relocation Authority, itself, hired Nisei (second generation Japanese-Americans) in Washington offices and elsewhere. Many went into war work.

In the metropolitan Chicago area—which had a prewar Japanese-American population of about 23,000 to 28,000 former evacuees are now settled.

Prejudice, throughout the country, was dispelled by a number of factors, says Kido.

The heroic achievements of the 442nd regimental combat team in Italy and France helped considerably, says the former San Francisco lawyer, who adds:

"In many cases prejudice was overcome by returning Caucasian veterans. They came home with the idea that fair treatment for all was one of the things they had been fighting for."

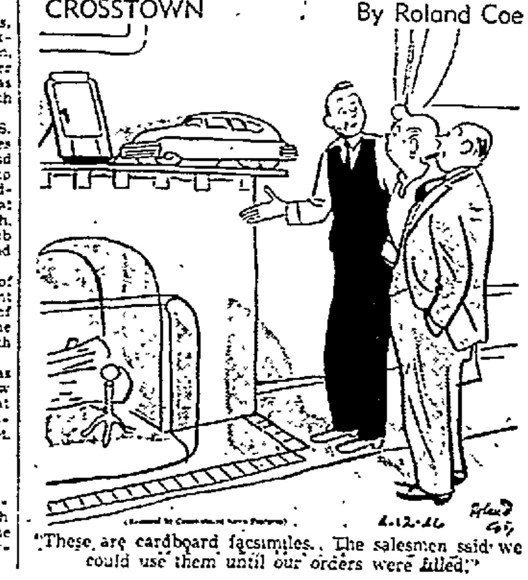

Unions Helped, Too

Unions have helped dispel prejudice too, especially the CIO, said Kido. Unions which once barred Japanese-Americans from membership are now helping them find jobs, even having them in headquarters offices in some cases.

The International Longshoremen and Warehousemen (CIO) pioneered in opening the gates to Nisei whose membership in the organization now runs into thousands.

Much of the prejudice in the west has been overcome and the bulk of the evacuated farmers are returning to the soil, climate and crops they know best. There have been isolated instances of violence but they represent the rare exception rather than the rule.

"Why don't they put on cars enough So all can get a seat?" He yells and glares at people who Have stepped upon his feet; "They can't do this to me!" he chirps And sounds a call for blood. But at the races he just grins And gaily asks: "What's good?"

"It's positively dangerous," He says in crowded haunt. "Suppose there was a panic here?" [illegible] he bawls. "Where are the coppers, sound asleep?" He asks [illegible] But at the races, shoved around, His gripes are mighty few.

IV

"The way they pack these buses is An outrage," he intones When on a three-block ride in one, And grunts and fumes and groans. "No citizen should stand for this," He cries with all his might; But buffeted at race tracks he Will think it quite all right.

V

"No seat!" he'll shout upon a train; "No [illegible] from me! I am entitled to sit down I [illegible]!" I know my "rights," he'll sternly say But where the ponies run He'll stand until his arches fall And call it good clean fun.

General MacArthur recommends that the Japanese adopt the A.B.C. alphabet. The Japs are satisfied that they were nuts to stage the recent war and they may be ready to admit that the Jap alphabet drove them crazy.

But we still doubt that the Japs will seem any less warlike because they spell, "Does the cat see the rat?" our way.

Adult Delinquency

By TRUMAN TWILL

For a couple of dollars, an hour of time and a bruised finger, we have temporarily escaped indictment as an adult delinquent.

Granted that it is only a down payment and must be repeated, the investment is sound. It can be proved that even the down payment is being dodged by many borderline adult delinquents.

It works like this:

Whenever neighborhoods, towns, cities—or individuals—loosen up with a few lousy dollars and a little effort, society's priceless investment in kids can be protected. Wherever no one gives a boot, the investment is lost. The kids go sour, roobery, violence and murder are the whirlwind's crop, and J. Edgar Hoover and associates have fresh cause to talk about the rapid increase of crime among juveniles.

In our case, and more by accident than design, adult delinquency was bought off with the price of one basketball hoop, the net for same and the effort of installing the hoop on the side of the garage. A basketball goes with the outfit when it can be found. Meanwhile, the visiting players are furnishing basketballs.

Within 15 minutes after the last bolt was tightened, two visiting players had arrived. The next day after school, there were eight—six boys, two girls. Anyone wondering where kids learn to play basketball needs only to put up a hoop to find out.

It is a little thing. There was no shortage of basketball hoops in the neighborhood and no particular evidence of adult delinquency. But there is plenty of adult delinquency, not only on the part of parents but on the part of the community in general.

In Amarillo, Tex., (50,000 people) a discovery has been made. For $10,000 a year and the time and effort of men who'd rather have a clear conscience than a juvenile delinquency problem every kid in town has a year-round chance to participate in some kind of organized athletics. To give an idea of the program's scope, Amarillo's basketball department alone gave 17 teams of 8 to 14-year-old kids a chance to play almost 500 scheduled games in two months. Likewise with football and baseball. There's a minimum of adult delinquency in Amarillo, and a minimum of juvenile delinquency among the city's 3,000 kids being given something to do. It's that simple, that cheap and that obvious. But most of us never see it until the kids turn up in court, guilty of every crime in the book while the older generation wrings its hands and wonders what went wrong.

Fog Device Held Costly

LONDON—Another "now it can be told" disclosure this week revealed why "Fido," the famous British wartime fog-disposal device for airdromes is too expensive for peacetime.

Figures indicated that Heathrow's "Fido" consumes 70,000 gallons of gasoline an hour. With fuel at 30 cents a gallon here, this means an outlay of $21,000 an hour. Best estimates say that only 12 planes could be landed an hour making a cost of $1,718 per airplane.

"CONSTANT INSULTS" RILE NAZI CHIEFTAIN

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, April 12—Ernst Kaltenbrunner complained, flushed and shaking, on the witness stand today against "constant insults" after a U. S. prosecutor had accused him of lying.

John H. Amen raised the ... when the former chief of German security police denied the genuineness of the Kaltenbrunner signature on a letter to the mayor of Vienna referring to an order that Jews be sent to labor and death camps. "Is it not a fact that you simply lied about your signature, just as you are lying about everything else you have said here?" Amen demanded.

Kaltenbrunner retorted: "The insults you are tossing at me, mister prosecutor, are insults of a kind I have become accustomed to. I have been insulted many times in interrogations in the last year."

Kaltenbrunner then launched a complaint to the international military tribunal, trying him and 21 other top Nazis on war crimes charges, that the preparation of his defense was hampered because he had not been able to contact witnesses.

When they read from the defendant's own statement an expression saying he had been treated well and was given every consideration.

Kaltenbrunner concluded his testimony with the statement that he accepted his job as lieutenant to Heinrich Himmler "because I considered it my duty to stay and right the wrong after I found what conditions exsisted."

Officers Knew About Beatings, Court Told

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 12—Three witnesses testified before a United States court martial today certain officers at the Lichfield detention camp knew that soldier prisoners were being clubbed and that at sometimes they joined in the beatings.

The witnesses, appearing in the trial of Sgt. James M. Jones, Muskogee, Okla., a guard at the camp who is charged with assault on prisoners, said such beatings at Lichfield were "common knowledge."

Pvt. Clarence B. Smith of Big Rapids, Mich., one of the witnesses, said Sgt. Jones struck him with a club while he was sprawled on the ground after tripping in the ranks in January 1945. Asked by Maj. Leland Smith, trial judge advocate, why he did not report this to the camp officers, the witness said:

"I would be taken care of, beaten up like some of the others. The officers knew about it."

Couple in Georgia Shells Out for Eggs

By The Associated Press

SAVANNAH, Ga. — Gilbert Rossignol and his wife have $10,000 worth of eggs in their home here, but it's not due to any egg surplus.

They have spent 42 years building up one of the largest collections of birds' eggs and nests in the country. The collection contains eggs from each of the states and parts of Canada. Catalogue prices of the specimens range from 10 cents to $1,500.

IT WAS A DRYING TRIP

By The Associated Press

CLOVIS, N. M.—Hardened railroaders were startled to see bits of white fluttering from the observation platform of a special train which went through here bearing 282 war brides from Australia.

The white squares were diapers for the 120 children with the women, washed and hung on lines on the platform to dry in the New Mexico breeze.

Approximately 150 commercial airports in the United States are equipped with airport control towers.

TRUMAN

eign policy statements have been dubbed mistakes; others applauded. But with foreign policy, sometimes the mistakes of today are the strokes of genius of tomorrow—and vice versa. Time will tell. At least, in world affairs, we are no longer in our ivory tower.

In a year as President, Mr. Truman has become the man of the party—a leader when a leader was lost. Whole sectors of the Democratic party may disapprove of Truman's policies, may vote against his legislative program, but if the Democratic national convention were held today, the squabble would be over naming the vice presidential candidate, just as it was in the second, third and fourth nominations of President Roosevelt.

On Credit Side

On the credit side of his political ledger, President Truman has demonstrated in his first year a terrific energy, an ability to stand up under tremendous responsibilities and fight them through. His personality is not dominating like that of his predecessor, but it is genially infectious. Become as angry with his acts or his views as you choose, it is almost impossible to dislike Harry Truman.

From the moment Truman took office, he showed a frankness that is almost unknown to Washington and politics. On occasion, this has gotten him into trouble and as the year progressed, he became more cautious. Now, he often drops back on the presidential prerogative of "no comment." But it still is a rare thing when he indulges in the kind of meaningless double-talk so many politicians resort to when the going gets rough.

Although some of his appointments must go on the debit side, many of the major ones have met with considerable approval. Like Roosevelt, President Truman is likely to let his intense loyalty to his friends get him into political hot water, but loyalties beget loyalties, and no politician lasts long without loyal friends.

Also to his credit and this will one day become a vital political factor; President Truman has stated his domestic platform in unequivocal words. In September last year, he set forth his 21-point program. He has added five more points. Each is a request for specific legislation.

Whether congress acts or does not, President Truman has his platform ready for 1948 and many of those points have the same appeal to the mass of voters that President Roosevelt's programs had.

Main point on the debit side has been President Truman's mishandling of congress. The legislative branch has given him the brush-off and his hail-fellow attitude towards his former cronies has left him without a weapon with which to strike back. Congress is likely to continue his political dilemma during the next two years.

DRAFT

1947; Army, 1,070,000; Navy, 558,000; Marine Corps, 108,000.

5. Ban the induction in any month of more men than are necessary to meet the July 1, 1947, quotas, which were fixed by the armed forces themselves.

6. Fix the draft ages at 18 to 29, inclusive, instead of the present 18 through 44.

Topping a pile of amendments waiting to be offered when the bill reaches the amendment stage tomorrow are these proposals:

An extension of the draft until next February 15 but with a ban against actual inductions until that date or until either September 15 or November 15 of this year.

Raising the minimum age from 18 to 20.

An upward revision of the services' pay scales as an incentive for voluntary enlistments.

TOILET PAPER SHORTAGE DUCKED BY U. S. CHIEFS

CPA Says It's OPA Job, OPA Blames Peace.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 12—The government knows there's a toilet paper shortage in some areas, but there's no agreement on the cause or what to do about it.

The Civilian Production Administration says it's a price problem and therefore is OPA's headache.

OPA says it has granted price increases to most manufacturers who have asked for them, is ready to grant more if necessary, but that price adjustments won't help very much.

An OPA official who asked that his name not be used said one of the basic troubles is the population migration since the end of the war. People have moved, especially from war production centers, but in some cases re-distribution of toilet paper supplies has not kept pace, the official said.

Another factor, he added, is the big influx of vacationers to southern resort areas. OPA, the official said, has received more complaints from Florida of a toilet paper scarcity than from any other state.

OSU LEADER QUITS IN COMMUNIST FUSS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 12 — Arthur Rappeport announced today his resignation as vice president of the Ohio State Youth for Democracy, a student organization under investigation at Ohio State university, following a statement by the campus group that some of its members were Communists.

"In view of the fact that I was used as a shill by an element of OSYD, I hereby wish to declare my present position," Rappeport stated.

He added that an element "within OSYD by devious methods has misinformed me and everyone else directly concerned with the group's activities."

President Howard L. Bevis of Ohio State reported receipt of a letter from the OSYD, saying some of its members were Communists.

Bevis recently named a committee to investigate the campus organization to determine whether it was affiliated with the American Youth for Democracy, a national group. University regulations forbid membership of such campus clubs in national organizations, he explained.

He said the letter from the university organization said there were Communists in the national group as well as in the campus club.

Was Shovel Co. Engineer and Former Real Estate Man.

Harry F. Stock, for some time an engineer at the Marion Power Shovel Co., and a former Marion real estate man, died in his home at 1185 East Center street about 10 a. m. today. He had been in ill health since Christmas time and suffered a heart attack.

Surviving are his widow and a daughter. A son, Lt. John S. Stock, was killed in an airplane crash near the Perkins Coffeyville Army Air Field, Coffeyville, Kan., Oct. 20, 1944.

His birth date was July 3, 1886. In 1907 he became associated with the Marion Steam Shovel Co. where he was employed 16 years, then he left to enter the real estate business. In 1930 he returned to the position which he held at the Shovel until his last illness.

IT WASN'T HUBBY'S

MALTA, Mont. — When Mrs. James Parker, British war bride, embarked at Southampton, she wondered if her new American husband had neglected to mention he was a ship-owner. Her husband, postal clerk and former GI, explained it was mere coincidence that the name of the ship that brought her to America was the James Parker.

Prostate Gland Trouble?

I'm a railroad man and for over 3 years had difficulty working because of backaches due to Prostate Gland trouble. Doctor's formula proved of great benefit and before and since his death have sold them (now called Watt's Suppositories) to railroad men and others the country over. Plus testimonials and repeat business show the good work they do. Backache, getting up nights, often indicate an inflamed Prostate Gland. I guarantee your money back if not given relief. One dozen Watt's Suppositories, $1.35; 3½ dozen for $3.75. Sold at Henney & Cooper Drug Store.—Adv.

Ohio Solon Charges Vets on Short End

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON April 12—Rep George Bender (R-Ohio) believes veterans are being treated unfairly in the distribution of surplus property and proposes five steps to "correct the situation."

Asserting that department stores and other businesses have Army materials for sale Bender told the house that veterans find equipment unavailable or in unusable condition.

The congressman-at-large recommended

(1) A complete inventory of all available surplus property (2) Immediate allocation of the available merchandise to each state based upon the number of veterans from that state (3) submission of a day-by-day inventory of merchandise to officials of the war assets administration in every community (4) Detailed descriptions of the merchandise to each office (5) one system by which veterans are permitted to purchase property after federal state and local agencies and publicly supported institutions should give them an absolute priority."

33 OF "TOJO" JAPS WIN IN NIP VOTE

By The Associated Press

TOKYO April 12 — Thirty-three members of the 1942 Tojo diet definitely were reelected and 40 other former members were returned to the house of representatives on the basis of final returns tonight from all but six districts in the nationwide election

Conservatives apparently had clinched a solid majority although the leading Liberal party was nowhere near control

With 394 of the house of representatives 468 seats decided women had won 32

By tonight the party lineup of definitely won seats was Liberals 116 Progressives 86 Social Democrats 76 Communists three with three others apparently certain of victory minor parties 39 and independents 72

This lineup means an enforced coalition in the house which doubtless will be dominated by a conservative viewpoint Many Social Democrats and probably most of the independents fall into this category under modern Japanese political conditions The Socialists however showed surprising strength

Of the women elected five each are from the Progressive Liberal and Social Democratic parties eight from minority groups one is a Communist and eight are independents

Eight women were leading all candidates in their respective districts Mrs Michiko Yamazaki who divorced her husband and was elected on the same day was among the nation's six highest vote getters with 176 000

Three of the women definitely elected stepped in o the campaign after their husbands were disqualified by General MacArthur's political purge directive

TRUMAN SURE TESTS OF A-BOMB TO COME

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON April 12 — President Truman who once postponed atomic bomb tests in the Pacific said today these tests are of vital importance and he had been assured the new target dates would be met

He issued a formal statement on the subject but still at any explanation of why he elected this particular time to give his views However Senator Huffman (D Ohio) recently introduced a resolution calling for cancellation of tests

Mr Truman said the experiments at Bikini atoll should provide information essential to intelligent planning in the future and an evaluation of the effect of atomic energy on our defense establishments

The first of two tests of the bomb against warships was set originally for May 15 Mr Truman postponed it for about six weeks saying that many congressmen wanted to witness the trials but would be unable to do so at that time

COUNTY GROUP HEARS FARM CREDIT AGENT

J. F. Hull Urges Land Be Made More Productive.

John F Hull, assistant to the general agent of the Farm Credit administration of Louisville, Ky., painted a pessimistic picture for farmers in the future when he talked to farm representatives last night at a meeting of the United States department of agriculture council. The meeting was held at Detrick's Inn.

Mr Hull declared that high prices for farmers do not mean high earnings and he urged farmers to prepare for the future by making their farms more productive and reducing the overhead cost

He also discussed functions of the Farm Credit administration and the work it was doing to assist farmers

In charge of last night's meeting was Marion Clark of the Production Credit association and H I Winters of the Federal Land bank

About 23 men, including members of the council and guests were present Next meeting will be May 15 and the topic will deal with the soil conservation service

Another bride-elect, Vivian Berry, was honored this week when Mrs. Paul Durbin, and Mrs. Paul Warwick entertained the Girl Scout leaders at the home of Mrs. Warwick. She will be married Easter Sunday to Emery Armstrong.

Marion Student Wins Citation at Kent

Warren Kerrigan of 314 East Center street is one of 92 persons enrolled in the college of business administration at Kent State university who have been cited by Dean Arden Allyn for outstanding scholarship.

A senior at Kent State, Kerrigan belongs to Alpha Phi Beta fraternity and Delta Sigma Pi, national men's business honorary. He is also a member of the interfraternity council and student council.

Kerrigan's grades during the winter term averaged between a B and B plus. He was a 1940 graduate of St. Mary High school.

A 27 per cent increase in enrollment in the Kent State business college has been announced for the spring term which began two weeks ago.

Pictures of Marion Co. Couple Used on Posters

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Eichhorn of south of Marion are pictured prominently in posters boosting the National Farm and Home Hour program now being distributed throughout the nation to NBC radio stations and rural families by the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company.

Mr. Eichhorn was honored last year with the title of FFA Star Farmer of America in 1945. He and his wife were interviewed on a special Farm and Home program after he received the honor.

BLIND COUPLE INSPECT THEIR FARM. World War II veteran Ernest Gay Jr. of Abington, Mass., who lost his eyesight in a mine explosion in France, and his fiancee, Rosalie Cohen of the Bronx, N. Y., are shown getting acquainted with the "livestock" at the farm that Gay bought recently. The blind couple plans to wed in June and engage in chicken farming. Gay first met Miss Cohen at the Valley Forge hospital in Pennsylvania. A social worker, she has been blind since she was five.

Korea, Spared Battle Horror, Wrestles with Post-War Chaos

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
AP Newsfeature Writer

SEOUL, April 12—Korea's economic plight probably is unique among war dislocated countries of the Far East.

Not a battleground itself, this little nation nevertheless has suffered. Few Koreans are sorry that Japan's surrender overturned their economy. But the U. S.-Russian occupation that came with it has proved a definite hardship.

Korea wants to buy from abroad, but has no way of paying. Japanese decrees impoverished the silk industry, which otherwise might have shipped raw silk to the United States to establish a basis for foreign exchange.

Rice Chief Crop

American - occupied southern Korea grows rice chiefly and nobody is talking about exporting that commodity when there isn't enough to feed all of the people at home.

Factories in both the American and Russian-occupied zones are cut off by the rigid boundary of the 38th parallel. The south may have raw materials that the industrial north could use but free communication is not permitted.

Korea actually is two countries which have not recognized each other.

American military government attempts to increase production are hampered by the boundary line and a shortage of supplies. So far, only a minor quantity of goods has come in from the United States.

Army authorities recently announced plans to import commodities from the United States, but the quantity and method of payment have not been announced. Meanwhile, Korea has a problem at home—inflation.

Prices of many commodities are more than 100 times what they were in 1937. Koreans complain that they are going up every day.

Blames Scarcity

In an analysis of the economic situation, Dr. Allen Loren, economic adviser to the military government, attributed inflation not only to the huge increase in currency but to a scarcity of goods and a number of subsidiary factors.

"At the time of Korea's liberation, there was fear and uncertainty among the Japanese in Korea," he said.

He said the people imagined the banks would be closed and withdrew their deposits.

To add to the situation, Americans, shortly after their arrival, declared an open market, discarding all former price controls. Military officers now concede that this was a mistake which they still are trying to correct by such measures as fixed prices on the basic commodity, rice.

Discharged Veteran To Operate Station

Russell Key, a recently discharged veteran, has taken over operation of a Shell Oil Co. service station at North Main and George streets.

Mr. Key returned to Marion after his discharge last December. He was in the service nearly five years.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Miller Key of two miles south of Marion.

SCOUTS TO GET CHARTER

Annual charter presentation of Troop 1, A. M. E. church, will be held Sunday at 11 a. m. at the church. The program will be under the direction of Milton Lashley, scoutmaster, and awards will be presented by Scout Field Executive Joseph L. Schlosser. Membership cards will be presented and advancement will be made. Cubs will also have a part in the program. Parents and friends of the boys have been invited.

OHIO SALES TAX SOARS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 12—State treasurer Don Ebright predicts a $16,000,000 gain in sales tax collections for 1946 if the present pace of spending continues. He said that collections for the first quarter of this year already was $4,101,559, or 25 per cent, higher than last year.

Urges Use of Less Fats and Bread in Meals

Dr. N. Sitton, Marion county health commissioner, has received a letter from Dr. Roger E. Heering, state director of health, urging persons to cut certain critical items in their diet in an effort to provide more food for European nations.

Grains and fats are especially stressed as items in which to conserve. The state health director suggests persons stop eating rice until the emergency is over, and that desserts made of wheat be eliminated. He also asks for the use of less bread.

With the scarcity of butter and margarine, the doctor suggests housewives make use of meat drippings for frying and seasoning vegetables.

225 Pupils Safe As Ohio School Burns

By The Associated Press

MILLERSPORT, O., April 12—Fire destroyed a three-story building of the high school-grade school in this Fairfield county community yesterday after 225 pupils filed orderly to safety.

The building consisted of 10 class rooms. The loss was estimated unofficially at $25,000 to $50,000.

A bus driver discovered flames shooting from the roof and notified Supt. Bryan Reed, who had the building vacated within two minutes.

The cause was not determined but Supt. Reed said he suspected defective wiring.

The age of the average present passenger car was 5.8 years.

Province of Quebec Horn of Plenty for Anglers

QUEBEC, P. Q., (1946)—The greater part of the Province of Quebec's vast territory is ideal fishing country.

In most of the thousands of lakes and streams glittering on the ancient Laurentian Plateau and the Appalachian mountains, trout and bass are remarkably plentiful; pickerel and maskamonge also challenge the fisherman's skill. And a very vigorous and active fish, the landlocked salmon called ouananiche (pronounced wanawneesh), inhabits the waters of a 365 square-mile lake, "Lac St. Jean", situated in a depressed section of the Laurentian Plateau.

That plateau, so often named in connection with Quebec, is an immense tableland north of the majestic St. Lawrence River, and it occupies approximately 93 percent of the province's territory, which is nearly equal to the combined areas of the twenty-one states east of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. Its base consists of very thick and solid rocks belonging to the oldest in the world. The general height above sea level ranges between 500 and 2000 feet, with, at places, much higher summits. And the innumerable lakes and streams adorning that massive shield are a legacy of a comparatively recent Ice Age. In the geologist's opinion, they are young. To prove this, he points to the fact that many lakes have several outlets and that the streams tumble in cascades everywhere. Of course, such youthfulness means a tremendous amount of waterpower, and at the same time it spells wonderfully fine sport.

There are also excellent fishing districts for the connoisseurs in the non-Laurentian fraction of Quebec's territory, South and east of the long established and thriving St. Lawrence River Lowland extend the great Appalachian Ridges, locally called the Notre Dame Mountains. The portion bordering on the states of New York, Vermont and New Hampshire includes the Eastern Townships. Variety is the keynote of their well-known scenic beauty. Here, lakes and streams are less numerous than in the Laurentians, but some of them are situated at remarkable heights above sea-level, and the majority offer genuine enjoyment to the fishermen who care for bass, trout, pickerel, maskatonge and landlocked salmon.

From the Eastern Townships, the Appalachian ridges run north-eastward. They lower east of Quebec City, only to rise considerably in the Gaspe Peninsula, and there, towering above the waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, they provide sites of a unique grandeur. The sportsman, especially if he prides himself on flycasting for sea salmon, finds here magnificent paradise, unrivalled save, in certain respects, by sections of the St. Lawrence north shore.

Fishermen from all over America are expected in the hospitable Province of Quebec this year.—Adv.

WMRN Broadcasts Hot "Go" Tonight

Sensational Charley "Chuck" Taylor, who has plenty of what the fans go for, encounters a formidable test when he crosses gloves with Manhattan's Tony Marteliano (above) in a welterweight ten-rounder at New York tonight.

Taylor, a full-of-fight Irishman from Pittsburgh, caused a real stir in fistic circles by the manner in which he trounced Freddie Archer recently. He exhibited instinctive boxing ability and a wide repertory of punches, plus speed, accuracy and power.

Marteliano, a tough, two-fisted socker believes in throwing punches from opening gong to final bell. In his last start he turned in a major upset by vanquishing the classy Canadian welter Phil Palmer.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and WMRN (1490 on your dial at 10 p. m.

The fact that Bing Crosby will conclude his current NBC series on May 9, to wind up a contract agreement with the sponsor, has sent speculating folk on a rampage trying to figure his future. They've lined up enough job possibilities to keep an ordinary man busy night and day.

Here are just a few:

That he would do a recorded series for MBS.

That he would join ABC as executive and entertainer, the deal to include a slice of stock.

That the James Melton sponsor on CBS would take him over in the fall.

That he would appear in a separate transcribed series over 400 individual stations at $100 per station.

That he was going on the Hit Parade of CBS.

That Rudy Vallee's sponsor on NBC was seeking his services.

That he would return to the NBC Music Hall in the fall.

None of these reports are traceable to any definite source, and particularly not to Crosby. But of them all, return to his NBC show is said to be most likely. It will be recalled last winter's settlement of the sponsor's suit over his contract provided that besides the current 13 weeks series he would make a number of guest appearances next season.

Actually, though, the only thing definite is that Bing is to spend part of the summer making another movie.

OPA RELEASES PRICE RANGE ON GM CARS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 12—Retail prices for new Pontiacs, Oldsmobiles, Buicks and Cadillacs built prior to the General Motors strike will range from $66 to $412 higher than 1942 prices, reports OPA.

The agency said these prices reflected increases in wages and cost of materials incurred up to the fall of 1945. They do not take into account, OPA said, the 18½ cents hour wage increase recently granted by GM at the conclusion of the strike.

This means, officials said, that prices for these cars may be increased later.

OPA said basic retail prices for the GM cars priced today were 2.5 per cent lower than prices for comparable 1942 models, but allowances for engineering and other changes boosted the cost above the level of four years ago.

The 2.5 per cent cut in basic prices stems from a reduction of dealers' discount margins by that amount. A further 2 per cent cut in these margins will apply on GM cars built since the strike. These will be priced later, OPA said.

The only other GM car previously priced was the 4-door Chevrolet sedan. It was $42 higher than the comparable 1942 model. In this case, too, the ceiling applied only to approximately 12,000 cars built before the strike.

The Pontiac retail increases range from $66 to $83 and average $81, OPA said. The hike for Oldsmobiles ranges from $86 to $124 and averages $107; for Buicks from $60 to $138 and averages $77; and for Cadillacs from $148 to $416, averaging $286.

The flag of the commander of a destroyer flotilla is a swallow-tail pennant of plain white bordered above and below with blue.

GALION CAGERS GET LETTERS AT BANQUET

Special to The Star

GALION, April 12—Coach Robert Sheffer presented letters to seven basketball players at the annual banquet Thursday night for which Rev. R. R. Elliker, pastor of First Reformed church, was guest speaker.

Approximately 80 attended including the teams, parents, faculty and wives, and school leaders.

The banquet was served in the Senior High gymnasium by the Junior High squad and the Girls' Athletic Association, and the food was prepared by the P.-T. A.

M. A. Povenmire offered invocation. E. R. Pickering, senior high principal, was toastmaster.

Robert Neff, captain, spoke briefly, as did H. A. Deppen, Junior high coach and E. M. Hixson, Senior High Junior Varsity coach.

Coach Robert Sheffer presented the awards and spoke. He paid tribute to Dick Powers, team assistant.

Letters were presented to three seniors, Joe McGuire, John Vossers, Robert Neff; two juniors, Lynn Herkett and George Treisch; and two sophomores, Bob Price and Gerald Thatcher. Managers letters were received by Dale Povenmire and George Seeds.

"Czar" Chandler Hints Diplomats Should Keep Out of Mexican Fuss

Happy Replies To Official Rap at Baseball Conflict

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 12—"The state department," says A. B. (Happy) Chandler, the baseball commissioner, "has enough to do without meddling in baseball."

Replying to a statement in Washington yesterday by an unnamed state department official that the government "wishes baseball would show some indication of a desire to clean up" differences with the Mexican league, the former Democratic senator from Kentucky added:

"I'm sure our state department does not recognize disorders and other breaches of international affairs when its only reports are through the newspapers. I'm sure they await offical reports before taking action. That's what this office does."

Mexican baseball is not recognized," he said, "because we've had nothing official on it."

Uncle Sam Annoyed

The state department spokesman declared controversies over American players entering into agreements with Mexican league officials injured relations with "one of our closest and best allies."

"Baseball is making it tough on us," he continued. "We try to build up good will and this sort of thing tears it down.

By "this sort thing" he referred to instances involving Vera Stephens, St. Louis Browns shortstop, who played for a short time with a Mexican league team but later returned to the Browns, and Mickey Owen, Brooklyn catcher, who reportedly signed a Mexican league contract but decided not to report. Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican league, has threatened to sue Stephens.

Chandler said "this office does not recognize Mexican baseball because we've had nothing official on it; not even a letter or any communication from the promoters of baseball down there has reached this office."

"We are prepared to go along with any country in the world that respects our rights and contracts," he declared, pointing to Cuba which he visited recently."

Agreement Reached

"We talked things over with Cuban baseball leaders and we came to a cooperative agreement," he asserted.

"American organized baseball has given the Mexican league every chance to cooperate with our leagues," the commissioner said, "but the only answer we have received has been challenges in the newspapers and threats that the Mexican league will break up our organization."

Chandler declared he had "read in the papers about a man named 'Pasquel' who reportedly has to lure American players from organized baseball," and added:

This office does not recognize Mr. Pasquel because we have never heard from him officially. Does Mr. Pasquel speak for the Mexican government? Just what is his capacity?"

OLD MAN PASSEAU FEELS FIT AS FIDDLE

Says He Should Last Five More Years.

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, April 12—That tung oil farm down in Mississippi is going to have to wait a few more summers on the Chicago Cubs' Claude Passeau—the old pitching arm feels fit for another five years.

The 27-year-old hurler recalls that for several years now he has been telling himself he'd soon be heading back to Lucedale, Miss., to see how much oil he could squeeze out of those tung nuts.

"This time a year ago," said Claude, who served up a one-hit World series shutout last fall against Detroit, "I was having so much trouble with my right elbow that I was ready to fold up."

Passeau, who began his big league career with the Philadelphia Phils in '36, says his arm isn't causing him a bit of trouble this spring and I feel as good as I did ten years ago."

"Funny thing about my tung oil business," he remarked, "I bought the farm (750 acres of which 140 are in tung oil trees) ten years ago and figured then I could make a good living in baseball for another six years, the time it takes tung to begin producing.

"But I've already beaten my retirement deadline by five years and right now I feel good for another five."

State Golf Tourney To Have $2,500 Purse

British Champ Heads for U. S.

Wants To Beat Mauriello But Also Needs Satin Bathing Suit for His Girl.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 12—Next to beating Tami Mauriello in his United States debut at Madison Square Garden, New York, on May 13, Bruce Woodcock, England's heavyweight boxing champion, "simply must" get a satin bathing suit for his fiance, Nora Speight.

"She wants a suit like actress Carol Landis wears," he smiled as he prepared to depart for New York today by airplane. "I've got to get it at all costs."

Woodcock and Nora plan to be married after he returns from New York.

The 25-year-old Woodcock, who unlike other British hopes of the past has never been knocked out was hailed as the future heavyweight champion by his manager, Tom Hurst, at a farewell press conference.

Hurst's belief is founded on 24 successive victories since Woodcock turned professional in 1942. Only his second pro fight—a six rounder—went the limit. He has five knockouts and the rest are technical kayoes in from two to six rounds.

White Woodcock has flattened the best fighters in Britain, boxing critics—long disappointed by British heavyweights—are skeptical about his chances abroad. He has proved he can catapult a knockout right but they fear that he has an inadequate defense. He feels his best fighting weight is 191 pounds.

Woodcock won the Amateur Boxing association's light heavyweight title in 1939. His amateur record shows more than 300 triumphs against three losses on points.

Feller Goes Route To Win, Tribe Due Home Saturday

By The Associated Press

ROANOKE, Va., April 12—Now that Bob Feller has pitched a full nine-inning route—and not with any spectacular success—the Indians' Allie Reynolds will attempt the same against the Giants today, in the last of the southern games between the Tribe and the Giants.

Feller, preparing for the league opener in Chicago next Tuesday, went the full route yesterday at Richmond and got the credit for the Indians' 4 to 3 victory, but took no risk of throwing his arm away.

As a result the Giants collected 10 hits, one of them a homer by Sid Gordon. The hits were spaced out, at least one to an inning, however, and Feller showed his old form in the final chapters. He fanned six batters and allowed three walks.

Pat Seerey, whose power at the plate has become noticeable lately, scored the Indians' winning run in the eighth after knocking out a freak double—the ball looked like an easy fly, but hit a utility wire and fooled outfielder Buster Maynard. The Tribe had only four hits off Harry Feldman, Hal Schumacher and Bob Carpenter.

The touring teams will arrive in Cleveland Saturday for the finish of their nine-game exhibition series. The Indians have won four and tied one out of the first six, bringing their spring record to 14 wins out of 27.

MARION HURLER FANS 8 OUT OF 10 IN SOUTH

Roeberry Looks Good In Camp; Team Due Soon.

Joe Carl Roeberry of 272 Patterson street, who at last report from the Albany training camp was hampered by a lame ankle, seems to have recovered rather well. Word has been received that he pitched three innings in a practice game April 5, fanning eight of 10 batters to face him. The other two died at first.

Training camp activities are in the windup stages with final assignments expected to be made today or tomorrow. Local officials expect Manager Wally Shang to bring this year's crop of Cardinals into town sometime Monday.

Rigorous training on the home field will continue until the opening day game against the Lima Terriers Tuesday April 30.

REDS RETURN TO OHIO FOR DAYTON TILT

Cincy Gets 2-0 Win in Brief Game with Tigers.

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., April 12—The 1940 Reds made their first appearance in Ohio today as they took on the Detroit Tigers in an exhibition game expected to attract 5,500.

Lefty Clyde Shoun was nominated to pitch for the Reds while the Tigers' mound duties were to be shared by Hal Newhouser, the American league's most valuable player last year, Tommy Bridges and Al Benton.

The two teams play at Columbus tomorrow, winding up a four-game series which opened Wednesday at Terre Haute, Ind.

The Reds will be at Indianapolis Sunday for their last exhibition contest before opening the National league in their home park Tuesday with the Chicago Cubs at the opposition.

The Reds margined the Tigers yesterday at Richmond, Ind., 2-0 as a rain-hail storm halted play at the end of five innings. Shortstop Eddie Miller provided the margin of victory with a two-run triple in the third.

Each team got two hits. Joe Beggs pitched for the Reds and Lou Kretlow, promising freshman, for the Tigers.

New Drivers Will Be Scarce at Indianapolis

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS — Some 250 race drivers have written Lou Shaw, new Indianapolis speedway president, wanting a chance to go about getting the 500-mile race May 30 and winning $25,000.

Shaw is replying regretfully there just isn't much chance each driver making the grade for an unknown driver "to be able to get a car" says Shaw. There can be only 33 starters, the owners, with a lot of experience up in the machines, and mechanic drivers who have been with cars can go the route. There will be some brand new faces, but most of the speedsters are prewar jobs. That is, they have been started before the race car never is finished. It's unusual to find mechanics putting new parts on a car the night before the big race. The owners have been in the game a long time and already have their favorite drivers.

Others choose a new driver buys or builds his own car.

Then says Shaw "he'll have to convince the drivers committee he can handle it without being a menace to himself and the others."

Shaw who has won the 500 three times and was leading in the 1941 race when a wheel collapsed is a hard-muscled man of medium height and weighs about 137 pounds. He lost 11 pounds in the one race in which he checked his weight.

"The turns are banked for 83 miles an hour—and when you hit them at 150 it feels as if they slope the wrong way. Shaw says. "At that speed a four-mile-an-hour breeze shoves the car every which way. The roar of the motors deafens you, your jaws and insides get sore from the pounding and you get a hell of a headache. And you can't relax a second.

Shaw has a letter he received from five Yanks during the Anzio beachhead battle. They had no hot eat and sleep in a tank, and said they were coming to the speedway to take the 500 "in a breeze."

"If it were just a matter of guts they'd do it" Shaw asserts, "but driving on the speedway is a matter of technique — and fast reflexes."

ASHLEY STUDIES LIGHTS

ASHLEY — Clyde C Kettner Post, American Legion, has set up a committee to investigate the possibilities of lighting Ashley school grounds for athletic events. Wandering Elk Makes Goats of Federal Wildlife Experts

By The Associated Press

MISSOULA Mont — Forest service officials here are puzzled over the case of Elmer the wandering elk.

Wildlife Chief C A Jay of Forest Service Headquarters reports:

Elmer had an identification tag fixed on one ear at Yellowstone National Park on the Montana-Wyoming border in 1939. That same year he and other elk were moved and transplanted in the westward to the Deer Lodge National Forest in southwest Montana.

Recently forest rangers in Idaho reported finding Elmer's records to the one on Elmer's ear.

"It seems impossible that an elk could travel that far," said Jay, pointing out that Elmer would have had to travel several hundred miles and cross two mountain ranges in order to go from the Deer Lodge Forest to the Coeur D'Alene River.

STOCKS HIT MIXED TREND IN TRADING

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 12—Stocks maintained a mixed and irregular picture in today's market with dealings apathetic.

Many leaders slipped somewhat under the day's best near the fourth hour.

With additional industries feeling the pinch of shortages due to the soft coal walkout, there was little in the news to overcome buyers' concern over earnings and dividend prospects.

Improved much of the day were Bethlehem, General Motors, Shamrock Oil, Allied Chemical, American Can, Anaconda, Air Reduction, Flintkote, Panhandle Producing, Libby-McNeill, Goodyear and Warner Brothers.
